I really enjoy how the site looks aesthetically right now. This is definitely how I wanted it to look and I envisioned it to be. One concern that I have is that the name Twin Peaks isn't displayed anywhere as a title, so making sure that the name of the show is somewhere for clarity purposes would help a lot. Just generally making it as clear as possible for someone who hasn't seen the show or doesn't know about Twin Peaks is huge, so just keep that in mind in terms of titles and layout. The typefaces you chose are very readable which I appreciate. Besides that, though, everything seems pretty clear and straightforward! Very interested to see the actual site!
